> The Japan Mail of the 25th February says :--In the grounds of the temple called Tofuku-ji, few days ago, one morning at about nine o'clock, thousands of frogs were seen to emerge from the river and commence an infuriated combat near the bank. The battle lasted until four o'clock in the afternoon. Big frogs and little frogs, strong frogs and weak frogs, all engaged pell mell, the result being that not a few died in their tracks, and a vast number of wounded ones betook themselves to the refuge of the river; the current of which they actually dammed with their small carcases. We are not responsible for this story, but we have it on the excellent authority of the Nichi Nichi Shimbun. For our own part, it has never been our lot to see Japanese frogs at large in the month of February, but, on the ther band, we cannot say that we have ever wilnessed a battle of frogs either.

I told him to see Mr. Wallaco and endeavour to get the money At the same time I wrote a not Wallace telling him to come and Mr. Wallace came and I had a conversation with him. In consequence of that conversation I saw the prisoner again. I said "Wallace says you did not may him the money. Wha did you do with it?" He said "I put into cash. told him it was a very serious matter, that I must suspend him and telegraph to London so that the Bank there might communicate with bis father. He said "I don't see the necessity of doing that." That closed the interview

When the prisoner said he put the money into cash, I understood him to mean that the cash balance was, deficient by $3,400 and to make it appear correct he drew the cheque. At that date the prisoner had no credit balance at the bank. He had a debit balance of about $1,500. I never authorised him to drag this cheque of $3,400. After that I learned from the compradore and the accountant that $25,600 had been paid in by the Comptoir. I went to the Comptoir and found this money had been paid in. I then went and applied for a warrant. On getting back to the Bank I learned that prisoner had asked the compradure not to close the cash till 4 p.m. as he expected to get some money from Mr. Chater. I then went to the Hongkong Bink, where I met the prisoner. I said "Whatdid you do with the money from the Comptoir?" Since there had been an attempt made to defend this charge it was his duty to make the charge on behalf of the Bank and for the protection of other Banks.

His Worship said he would grant a remand. Mr. Wotton asked for a remand for a week. Mr. Pollock said he must oppose a remand for so long a time. The prosecution had already had a remand and should have been prepared. If a week was grauted it meant carrying over the case for another month, which was a great COUNTERFEIT MONEY. Chan Kun Yau was charged with being in possession of a quantity of counterfeit ten cent pieces on the 9th inst.

Inspector Mackie stated that about 12.3 p.m. on the 9th inst., he was informed that a Chinaman was giving 14 ten cent pieces for a dollar. Witness gave the informer a dollar to go to the same place and get change, in ten cent pieces. The witness followed and saw the informer go into an archway in West Street and receive the change. Witness then arrested the defendant, and in a tin box on the will discovered fortytwo more spurious ton cent pieces.

Defendant stated that the coins were left in His Worship remanded the case till Wednesday, allowing bail in one surety of $75.

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION. Au Wai was charged with being in possession of two skin jackets value $20, the property of Wang Hing Ching, on the 9th instant. P.C. 192 stated that at 5 p.m. on the 9th instant, he went on board the steamer Pasig. which was about to start for Canton, and noticed the defendant sitting on a mat with a hamper near him. Witness had some suspicion and asked the defendant to open the number, whereupon the latter ran away. Witness gave chase and eventually caught him, and upon the hamper being opened the two skin jackets produced were found. The jackets were part of a quantity of clothing stolen on the 24th ultimo, a des-ription of which had been reported at the Whing . Hing Ching stated that the jackets produced were his property and worth $20. His premises were broken into on the 24th ultimo, and clothing stolen to the amount of $200. Witness had informed the Police at the time of the theft, but no one had been arrested nor had the clothing been discovered.

The defendant said he was a stranger to Hongkong and that the hamper did not belong to him. His Wership thought the charge of unlawful possesion had been proved and imposed a fine of $40 or three mouths' imprisonment.

Dr. Farnies has recently been making some ourious-experiments-with-sulphate-of copper, into a severe case of double pneumonia, he ex: which he has aunounced to his colleagues of the nired on the 21st instant, despite the faithful Academy of Medicine. The hands of a young sion, and Major Lee, M.D. The last obsequies immersed in a solution of sulphate of copper, Barometer 4 r.m. 29.86 Therm. 4 r.m. (Wet bulb) 68 understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the morning of the 24th instant, largely at her sense of touch remained unimpaired, the Ther tended by all the foreigners present in Soul, flesh became insensible to the pricks of a needle and thousands of Korean converts, who flocked or the cuts of any sharp instrument. Dr. from far and wide to render the last honours Farnies' experiments also proved once again that salts of copper do not possess the poisonous to a rare class of men that a community can properties formerly attributed to them. This advance of science can scarcely benefit the herborist Moreaux, who was guillotized for having

Mr. George Giffen's appeal to the Marylebone Club will raise a curious point of cricket law. Mr. Giffen, batting in the Australian match, was struck on the knee by a ball. He fell, and most favourably all who were brought into contact it is alleged that he knocked the bail off with his with him, and was the modest and unassuming foot. An appeal was made to the bowler's umpire for "leg before," and the answer was " Not out." Then an appeal was made to the batsman's umpire for "hit wicket," and Mr. Giffen was given out. courageous mind. In the darkest hours of per He refused to accept the decision, on the ground secution and suffering he never faltered, but by that he had already been given "not out," that example of his serene and undanuted courage he | the wind had blown away the bail, and that the ball was "dead." The last two pleas are clearly newed efforts now so signally crowned with vic. futile, because questions of fact are for the umpire only to decide; but the first offers an Just now things seem to be at a standstill in arguable point. The question is, can a bateman plead autrefois acquit when an appeal is made to the second umpire? It is very curious that the question has not long ago been determined, for it must often have happened that a batsman has been "out" in ways which involved an appeal to two umpires. It should be observed that the mainder of the princely Koreans from Washing. appeal is always general-" How's that?" and not " How's that with reference to your special jurisdiction?" Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vest margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and unwards of 600,000 Chinese characters.
